

Delivers dynamic standing

Topo is an anti-fatigue mat designed with standing desk users in mind.

We know humans weren't meant to sit all day, but standing on flat ground isn't a natural position either.

Static standing leads to postural fatigue, which forces people into unhealthy positions.

The calculated terrain features of Topo, in conjunction with the cushioning and supportive material, ensure more postures, positions and healthy movement.

The Topo Terrains

Designed to be used with Sit to Stand desks

Unlike anti-fatigue mats, which have been designed to be stood on and not moved, Topo does not have an anti-slip base and can be easily repositioned in front of or underneath the desk with the user's feet. This makes transitioning from sitting to standing and back even easier.
